the reader's love of the writing tends to become indistinguishable from his love of the writer beautiful writing has exercised its intoxicating power over readers since time immemorial and yet on occasion this seduction extends beyond the page and sparks an irreversible connection between author and reader this is a true literary seduction in literary seductions frances wilson demonstrates how some of history's most renowned writers were themselves ensnared by the writing they consumed and which in turn consumed them through a series of famous literary couples elizabeth barrett and robert browning anaïs nin and henry miller osip mandelstam and his wife nadezhda wilson evokes the evolution from literary seduction to sexual desire with stories of self sacrifice self effacement and even self immolation literary seductions recounts the powerful inflammatory and sometimes destructive nature of literature philosophy and literature enjoy a close complex relationship elucidating the connections between these two fields this book examines the ways philosophy deploys literary means to advance its practice particularly as a way of life that extends beyond literary forms and words into physical deeds nonlinguistic expression and subjective moods and feelings exploring thinkers from socrates and confucius to foucault and simone de beauvoir richard shusterman probes the question of what roles literature could play in a vision of philosophy as something essentially lived rather than merely written to develop this vision of philosophy that incorporates literature but seeks to go beyond the verbal to realize the embodied fullness of life and capture its inexpressible dimensions shusterman gives particular attention to authors who straddle the literature philosophical divide from augustine and montaigne through wordsworth and kierkegaard to t s eliot georges bataille maurice blanchot and bertrand russell the book concludes with a chapter on the chinese art of writing with its mixture of poetry calligraphy and painting philosophy and the art of writing should interest students and researchers in literary theory and philosophy it also opens the practice of philosophy to people who are not professionals in the writing of philosophy or literary theory a discussion of the poetry of john ashbery showing that a sense of occasion the sense that the poem should be fit for its occasion was a binding principle for the poets of the new york school david herd traces the development of ashbery s poetry in the light of this idea the book is a study of ashbery s career and also a history of the period in which that career has taken shape the development of ashbery s poetic is set against such culturally defining issues as the institutionalisation of literature the rise and fall of the avant garde mass culture vietnam the absence of a divine presence the erosion of tradition the growth of celebrity and the emergence of aids ashbery s responses to such issues are set against the work of lowell berryman o hara koch burroughs ginsberg oppen and larkin these volumes offer a one stop resource for researching the lives customs and cultures of africa s nations and peoples unparalleled in its coverage of contemporary customs in all of africa this multivolume set is perfect for both high school and public library shelves the three volume encyclopedia will provide readers with an overview of contemporary customs and life in north africa and sub saharan africa through discussions of key concepts and topics that touch everyday life among the nations peoples while this encyclopedia places emphasis on the customs and cultural practices of each state history politics and economics are also addressed because entries average 14 000 to 15 000 words each contributors are able to expound more extensively on each country than in similar encyclopedic works with shorter entries as a result readers will gain a more complete understanding of what life is like in africa s 54 nations and territories and will be better able to draw cross cultural comparisons based on their reading
