the thirteenth volume based on the giorgio levi della vida conference reassesses the role of the iranian peoples in the development and consolidation of islamic civilization in his key essay ehsan yarshater casts fresh light on that role challenging the view that after reaching a climax in baghdad in the ninth century islamic culture entered a period of decline in fact he maintains a new and remarkably creative phase began in khurasan and transoxania symbolized by the adoption of persian as a medium of literary expression by the mid sixteenth century persian literary and intellectual paradigms had spread from anatolia to india encompassing the greater part of the islamic world yarshater also challenges traditional assumptions about the islamization of persia in the essays which follow six distinguished scholars consider the historical cultural and religious aspects of the persian presence in the islamic world the position of the persian gulf as the main highway between east and west has long given this region special significance both within the middle east and in global affairs more generally this book examines the history of international relations in the gulf since the 1820s as great powers such as britain and the us and regional powers such as iran and iraq vied for supremacy over this geopolitically vital region it focuses on the struggle for control over the islands of the gulf in particular the three islands of abu musa greater tunb and lesser tunb an issue that remains highly contentious today it describes how for 170 years britain eroded iranian influence in the gulf both directly by asserting colonial rule over iranian islands and port districts and also through claiming iranian islands for their protégés on the arab littoral it shows how after britain s withdrawal these islands became a pawn in the animosity and conflict that pitted at one time arab radicals and nationalists against monarchical iran and later the conservative moderate arab camp against islamic iran it goes on to explore the impact of the rise of american power in the gulf since the start of the 1990s its policy of containment of iran and iraq and how this has provided encouragement to the ambitions of the persian gulf arab littoral states especially the uae towards the islands of the gulf
