i am sure of this much my little story has become your history you won t really understand your times until you understand mine reeling from the aftermath of the twin tragedies of the great war and the influenza epidemic diffident schoolteacher agnes shanklin has taken the trip of a lifetime to egypt and the holy land but her arrival at cairo s semiramis hotel coincides with an event that will change history for the year is 1921 and the cairo peace conference is about to preside over nothing less than the creation of the modern middle east at first agnes acts as a welcome sounding board for the historic players churchill t e lawrence and lady gertrude bell among them poised to invent the nations of iraq syria lebanon israel jordan and so decide the fate of the arab world yet as the tumultuous days pass she attracts the attention of a charismatic german spy and is inexorably drawn into the duplicitous dangerous world of geopolitical intrigue as enlightening as it is entertaining this compelling passionately felt novel casts brilliant and perceptive light on what lies behind so many of today s headlines a collection of 16 essays examining how armed conflict functions as a subject theme metaphor symbol or plot device in works of science fiction fantasy and other speculative fictions essays in this volume demonstrate how science fiction can serve as a bridge between the sciences and the humanities the essays show how early writers like dante and mary shelley revealed a gradual shift toward a genuine understanding of science how h g wells first showed the possibilities of combining scientific and humanistic perspectives how writers influenced by gernsback s ideas like isaac asimov illustrated the ways that literature could interact with science and assist in its progress and how more recent writers offer critiques of science and its practitioners the sparrow is one of my favourite science fiction novels and it destroyed me in the best way when i read it it is so beautifully written and the construction of the narrative is masterful emma newman author of planetfall the acclaimed genre defining winner of the 1998 arthur c clarke award set in the 21st century a number of decades from now the sparrow is the story of a charismatic jesuit priest and talented linguist emilio sandoz who in response to a remarkable radio signal from the depths of space leads a scientific mission to make first contact with an extra terrestrial culture in the true tradition of jesuit adventurers before him sandoz and his companions are prepared to endure isolation suffering even death but nothing can prepare them for the civilisation they encounter or for the tragic misunderstanding that brings the mission to a devastating end once considered a living saint sandoz returns alone to earth horrifically maimed both physically and spiritually the mission s sole survivor only to be blamed for the mission s failure and accused of heinous crimes written in clean effortless prose and peopled with memorable characters who never lose their humanity or humour the sparrow is a powerful haunting fiction a tragic but ultimately triumphant novel about the nature of faith of love and what it means to be human and widely considered to be a classic of the genre the 19th international conference on the fantastic in the arts was focused on the centennial of the initial publication of H.G. Wells's The War of the Worlds. Wells's first and fourth novels, The Time Machine and The War of the Worlds, have together largely created the science fiction genre and are arguably the two most influential works of science fiction. But through his works, Wells has had an even broader influence on the fantastic, and numerous writers, artists, and musicians are indebted to him. This volume includes selected essays from the 19th Annual ICFA and gives special attention to Wells and his legacy. The first section of the book offers fresh interpretations of The War of the Worlds, particularly as a commentary on colonialism. The second provides broader coverage of Wells and his works with essays examining his A Modern Utopia and looking at texts which his writings inspired in major or minor ways. The third includes essays on noted fantasy writer Peter Straub, the guest of honor at the conference, while the fourth presents discussions of a variety of topics related to the fantastic, including fantastic neomedievalism, Dracula, and dragons.

This volume contains descriptions of 1,245 books in nine fiction genres, including author or editor's name, publication information, story type, major characters, setting, plot summary, and more.
